The above required submission materials are due in the GLI office no later than Wednesday, January 23, 2019 at 5:00pm PT. The application and recommendation form links can be found in this document and on the GLI website by clicking "Apply Now." Your materials listed above will be uploaded to the application. Only completed submissions will be considered for selection. Selection and reduced program fee decisions will be made by GLI.

GLI's program effectiveness comes from its total immersion experience and the commitment participants devote to the full program schedule, to themselves, their colleagues, and their institutions. You should reconsider your application if you anticipate needing to remain continually engaged at your workplace during June 7-22, 2019. We estimate 6-8 hours of asynchronous coursework per module (every 48 hours) during the online weeks, May 6-18, 2019. You should also plan about 15 hours of asynchronous coursework during the bridge period from May 19-June 6, 2019. Additionally, we are unable to accommodate families or permit visitors for the duration of the program. We understand this can present a hardship for many and we urge you to consider this carefully before making a submission.

Candidates will be notified of decisions in late February 2019.
